Introduction

Welcome to the home of The Drumore Manor Ensemble & The Philmont Collection. For over 20 years the Smucker family has been dedicated to bringing you beautiful, handcrafted, solid hardwood gun cabinets & curio display cabinets to showcase your prized collections.

Our woodworking shop is located in the rolling river hills of Southern Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, surrounded by farmland & several hundred acres of woodland. A quiet area where dedication to creating beautiful handcrafted cabinets is our priority.

We have a firm commitment that there are no shortcuts to quality. Tried-and-true woodworking skills are built into every piece using the natural resources abundant here in America.

Most of our parts are manufactured in house which allows us first rate quality control with meticulous attention to detail throughout the entire cabinet making process.

During the process of building the doors, frames and other parts, we select our lumber according to the color you choose to ensure a consistent finish showing off the beautiful natural wood details.

Our finishing process starts with the color of your choice, a coat of catalyzed vinyl sealer, hand sanding then a silky smooth topcoat of catalyzed conversion varnish and your cabinet is ready to become a family heirloom.

The majority of our pieces are made to order. Consider this when placing your order; most of the parts are still in a pile of lumber, waiting to be crafted into YOUR display cabinet, not stored in a warehouse waiting to be shipped.

Please realize we are only human and are working with a natural product, but continually strive to give you exceptional quality.

Our furniture is built for generations of enjoyment! We stand behind every piece we make. Thank you for browsing through our catalog and remember us when you are ready to add a handcrafted display cabinet to your home or office.
